Carolus Linnaeus is the father of taxonomy, which is the system of classifying and naming organisms. One of his contributions was the development of a hierarchical system of classification of nature. Today, this system includes eight taxa: domain, kingdom, phylum, class, order, family, genus, and species.

Linnaeus: The Father of Sustainable Development Students are the best harbinger of the future. When Carl Linnaeus, the father of taxonomy, presented his bid for a professor's chair at Uppsala University, students did not look kindly to his competitor. In a riotous gesture, they ripped the competitor's dissertation into pieces during his defence.
